

ON-SITE SUPPORT

When the system installation started , there are a lot of parties to communicate and work with. Our on-site engineers have sufficient knowledge and on site experience to cater the complications on site and make sure the project run smoothly.

Berkin project manager will provide GRATT chart , installation training to installer to make sure everybody knows what to do. Attending on site workshops so progress and problems are all communicated to relevant parties .

